MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

An armed posse of more than one hundred farmers hunted through the woods five miles from Middletown, N. Y., yesterday, for William Monroe, who is wanted for an attempt to murder six persons and for setting fire to the barn of Abraham Deyo, at Ireland's Corners, near New Platz.

Monroe, who is about 35 years old, is known as a hard citizen. He has served a term in prison for a minor offense. On the complaint of Deyo he was arrested some time ago for assault and had been threatening to get even. He selected yesterday afternoon.

Arming himself with a piece of iron pipe about an inch in diameter, he went to the Deyo farm and called Abraham Deyo to the door of the farm house. As Deyo stepped outside into the door-yard Monroe felled him with a blow of the pipe.

Mrs. Deyo, who saw the act, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jonathan Deyo, ran outside. Both women were knocked senseless by a blow over the head, and Monroe then struck Deyo several times.

A woman servant ran out and was felled. Leaving the senseless women and the man lying where they fell, Monroe went into the house. He smashed up the furniture, and, finding a child sleeping in the chadle, tossed it against the wall.

Satisfied there was no one else in the house, he made his way to the barn, some distance away. There four men were pressing hay. Jonathan Deyo, the attorney, who had come up to visit his brother, was watching them work.

Monroe called him to the front of the barn and struck him down. Monroe then took a handful of matches from his pocket, lighted them and tossed them into the loose hay.

The four men, who had come to the assistance of Mr. Deyo, stopped and tried to save the barn and the horses. In the meanwhile, Monroe made his escape. In a few minutes the barn was a mass of flames and the men had hard work to save the other buildings.

The reputation of Monroe as a desperate man, who had served a term in prison and who was considered a menace to the thinly settled community, caused the greatest indignation, and threats were made of lynching.

The outrage had been committed about 9 o'clock, and before nightfall Constable Charles Litz had gathered a posse, the members of which had volunteered to assist in the running down of Monroe. He had not been located at an early hour this morning.

A TRAGEDY IN PARIS.

Miss Winifred Parsons, the daughter of the late Charles Parsons, president of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad. New York who died in 1904, was found dead with a bullet wound in her head yesterday in her apartments in the Avenue Iona, Paris. The police say that the case is one of suicide, while friends of the dead girl declare that the shooting was an accident. Owing to the desire of friends and relatives to give the tragedy as little publicity as possible, the affair at first appeared wrapped in mystery.

It was learned, however, that the girl had been suffering from melancholia since the death of her fiance, a young Frenchman, Emile Mass, who died four months ago from consumption. Miss Parsons was found dead in bed at noon Sunday by a maid who entered the room with her breakfast. The girl's right hand clutched a revolver, a bullet from which had penetrated the brain.

OYSTER BEDS BARE.

Information has been received in Baltimore that the oysters on the dredging grounds known as the Tea Table, Lumps, and Middle Ground, in the upper Chesapeake bay, are dead, and the once prolific ground, where thousands of bushels of oysters were secured, is now a barren waste. A thorough investigation of the locality has just been made by a practical oysterman to find out what the prospects are for the coming season. A dredge was thrown overboard about a dozen times at each of the places named and only brought up shells and dead oysters.

It was stated that freshets and the dumping of mud on the oyster beds have been the cause of killing the large quantities of oysters that in past seasons have given profitable employment to hundreds of oystermen.

TO ABANDON KENTUCKY.

A story is published in Louisville, Ky., that the American Tobacco Company has withdrawn its 22 country buying agents from Kentucky. The announcement comes as a complete surprise to local tobacco men, and has caused quite a flurry among those interested in the situation throughout the State. Furthermore, it is known that the company intends to open up headquarters in Cincinnati. The rumor is that the company intends to entirely quit Kentucky. Officials of the American Tobacco Company decline to discuss the outcome of the move.

Louisville has for years been the largest leaf tobacco market in the world, thousands more hogsheads of tobacco being handled on the local "breaks" annually than at any other point.

It is generally accepted that the numerous "Night Rider" troubles and the intense feeling which exists against the American Tobacco Company in many sections have caused the officials of the company to withdraw the country agents from the State.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

MONDAY EVENING, AUG. 24, 1908.

ALASKA steps to the front, this time to postpone the exhaustion of the American coal deposits which is predicted for the end of the present century. The United States Geological Survey, which has been taking a survey of the mineral resources of Alaska, has discovered more than twenty large coal fields on the peninsula. Both anthracite and bituminous coal exist, and the belief is expressed that in time this land will supply millions of tons of fuel to the world. And in the meantime the coal barons will secure possession of all these coal fields and so regulate production as to prevent the lowering of prices; for did not Mr. Baer several years ago say that the people had been paying too little for coal for a long time and that coal would never be cheap again?

AS THE result of the report that there have been many marriages between negroes and whites in Manhattan, Alderman John Gunther, of the 12th Assembly District, Brooklyn, has decided to start an agitation in the Board of Aldermen to prevent the spread of the practice to his home borough. In the last eight months, he says, more than a score of marriage licenses have been issued, permitting the inter-racial alliances in Manhattan. The alderman says that the movement might eventually result in the presentation of a bill to the legislature with the object of preventing the marriage of blacks and whites in New York. There are such laws in the southern States and the sooner the north adopts them the better it will be.

DR. TOULOUSE, the well-known French medical writer, has just published a book entitled "How to Form a Mind." The holiday as an institution is unsparingly condemned, and above all the author objects to the idea that "it is necessary to rest the mind by exercising the body." This axiom, he says, is proved by physiology to be absurd. Certain it is the "summer vacation" has grown into a habit and Dr. Toulouse is not the only one who questions its beneficent effects

THE spirit of secession is abroad. Supervisor Bennett, of Brookhaven Township, Suffolk county, N. Y., is so wrought up over the proposed invasion of Suffolk by the city of New York in an effort to add to the city's water supply that he said at a meeting held in the chambers of Justice Jaycox, of the Supreme Court, in Patchogue, Long Island, on Thursday night, that the county may secede and form a new state. Will Governor Hughes call out troops to suppress the rebellion?

MR. TAFT announced at Hot Springs on Saturday, his purpose, if elected president, to call a special session of congress for tariff revision as soon as possible after March 4. Mr. Taft sees the handwriting on the wall and hears the murmurs of the multitude demanding relief from the burden imposed upon them by the tariff laws, so he makes a virtue of necessity by his promise, which, however, is in strong contrast with Mr. Sherman's stand pat acceptance speech earlier in the week.

THE entire government at Washington has been converted into a great republican campaign bureau with temporary headquarters at Oyster Bay. Such is the spectacle that is witnessed in this age of civil service reform and under a president who would have it believed that he shines among the foremost civil service reformers.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 24.

Secret service officials here are piqued at the arrest in Chicago by a private detective agency of George W. Fitzgerald, at the instance of Assistant United States Treasurer Boldenweick, for alleged robbery of the Chicago subtreasury, of $173,000 in February, 1907. They are a little fearful that the private detective who placed Fitzgerald under arrest may have acted precipitately and flushed the covey too soon. "I hope that the arrest is not premature or ill-considered," said Chief Wilkie of the service today, "and that it will not prevent the conviction of the men who got the money. The service has been keeping track of Fitzgerald since the shortage occurred, and was familiar with all of his very suspicious transactions which were also known to the United States attorney. The fact that the arrest was made without the co-operation of the United States attorney would suggest that officer was not consulted. I hope I am wrong, and that the young detective who represents Boldenweick has as good a case as he thinks he has."

With his religious faith as his only solace, John Early, the leper isolated in a lonely tent on the banks of the Eastern Branch of the Potomac river, guarded day and night by employes of the District Health Department, calmly awaits his inevitable fate. Down at Lynn, N. C., his wife and child face the double horror of continued separation from him and of themselves becoming victims of the terrible disease. Thousands of persons in Washington who either came in contact with Early or frequented the same restaurants before he was told last Friday that he had become a leper are today more or less panic stricken, notwithstanding the public statements of well-known physicians that the disease is only mildly contagious.

Held by a hook, like a piece of meat, J. E. Morris, employed in a Richmond grocery store, dangled in midair Saturday night until rescued by fellow-employes. Morris went up a ladder to a shelf to get some goods for a customer, when he slipped. His wrist caught in the meat hook, which passed through the arm and held him firmly. Though suffering terribly, he hung on bravely until others in the store could climb the ladder and release him. Nine stitches were required to sew up the ugly wound.

William G. Page, a merchant of Batesville, was found dead in the Miller School reservoir in Albermale county, shortly after midnight Saturday, with a bullet wound in his head. Motive for the suicide of Mr. Page is lacking. All that is known of the tragedy is that Mr. Page had his horse saddled and, mounting, rode away from his home at Batesville at 10 o'clock in the morning. Later in the day the horse came home riderless, and a search was instituted after some time had elapsed and Mr. Page had not been heard from. This continued throughout the day, and shortly after midnight the searchers found the body in the Miller School reservoir. Mr. Page's hat was hanging on the railing and a revolver was found near the body.

The Rosenblooms Arrested.

Baltimore, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Bunnie Rosenbloom, aged 50, and her daughter, Eva Rosenbloom, aged 16, the widow and child of Solomon Jacob Rosenbloom, the Windber, Pa., merchant, whose dead body was found in a trunk at Camden, N. J, a few days ago, were arrested in this city today by Detective, Aikinson and Brennan of the Baltimore headquarters staff, on telegraphic request from the sheriff of Somerset county, Pa. Mrs. Rosenbloom and her daughter were taken to headquarters and "sweated" but what connection they could have had with the supposed murder, and just what was learned by the police is as yet unknown.

Shortly before noon Mrs. Bonnie Rosenbloom and her daughter, Eva Rosenbloom, confessed that the body found in the trunk at Belle Mawr, near Camden, N. J., on August 16 was that of their husband and father, Samuel J. Rosenbloom of Windber, Pa., and that he was killed by her son, Alexander Rosenbloom, at their home at Windber, Pa., on or about November 12 last. The woman said the cause of the murder was that her husband had beaten them.

Scores of begging letters are arriving at Hot Springs, Va., for W. H. Taft and in every one of them is a touch of deft flattery. Today's Telegraphic News

The Hains Case.

New York, Aug. 24.—Indignant at stories involving U. S. army officers in degenerate practices with Capt. Peter C. Hains, jr., who shot and killed William E. Annis nine days ago, it was admitted today by officers here that a fund of one million dollars will, if necessary be raised for the defense of Hains and the exoneration of the service; $100,000, it is said has already been pledged for the defense by men who have assured General Hains, father of the two prisoners, of their sympathy and active assistance.

Captain Hains and T. Jenkins Hains were not arraigned today in the Long Island City Court. The preliminary examination was put off until Friday morning by consent. The brothers were not taken to the Long Island City Court when the agreement was reached today. According to John F. McIntyre, counsel for the defense, two new witnesses have been found whose stories may change the aspect of the case. "I am sure no jury will convict Captain Hains." Mr. McIntyre declared; "he was clearly insane when he killed Annis, rendered so by brooding over his wife's alleged infidelity. As to T. Jenkins Hains, I think I shall have no difficulty in showing that he broke no law when he accompanied his brother to the scene of the tragedy."

T. Jenkins Hains is today busy in his cell in the Queens county jail in writing a full account of the tragedy.

New York, Aug. 24.—Captain Peter C. Hains, the slayer of William E. Annis has gone stark mad—unless he is cleverly shamming—and a double watch has been set over him in his cell. He seems to have forgotten all about the murder of the alleged wrecker of his home and is absorbed by the idea that he must report at noon to his superior military officer at Fort Hamilton, his leave of absence expiring at that hour.

Yesterday Hains sent for his soldiers clothes and when Keeker Reilly came to his cell this morning to take him to court he found the prisoner attired in his undress uniform.

"I've been waiting for you" said Hains to Reilly as soon as the latter entered the cell. You people seem to forget that I have to report to Col. Harris at noon today. So long, I'm off for the fort." With these words Hains tried to push by the keeper who grabbed hold of his wrists, however, and forced him back.

Mr. McIntyre denies the story that a $1,000,000 defense fund was being subscribed to by army officers.

Death of Von Sternburg.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—Freiherd Speck Von Sternburg, German Ambassador to the United States, died at Hidelberg today following an operation for cancer performed by Prof. Czerny.

The foreign office cabled Count Hermann Von Hatzfeldt-Wildenburg, German charge d'affaires at Washington, to notify President Roosevelt that a successor to Baron Von Sternburg would be chosen probably early in September. Among the men most prominently mentioned for the post are Count Von Goetzen, the Prussian Minister; Herr Von Richenau, the Brazilian Minister, and Dr. Baron Mumm Von Schwarzehstein, Ambassador to Japan.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.—To his intimates and those who saw him before he sailed away last May for his last visit home Baron Von Sternburg's demise does not come as a surprise. Only his own indomitable will and courage, it is thought, prolonged his life thus far. Nothing could more clearly indicate the success with which Baron Von Sternburg conducted his mission in this country as the ambassador of the great empire than the fact that the President of the United States was accustomed to address him by the affectionate diminutive "Specky." Baron Van Sternburg became the chum of Roosevelt when he was mere secretary of the German embassy and the president was assistant secretary of the navy. These two, with General Leonard Wood and Sir Michael Herbert, late British ambassador, were almost inseperable friends.

It was largely because of this friendship that in 1903 he received the appointment of ambassador of Germany to this country. It is understood that President Roosevelt himself intimated to the German emperor that the selection would be a pleasing one.

The news of Baron Von Sternburg's death was a distinct shock. He was 56 years old and was born in Leeds, England. He was married in London to Lillian May Langham, a famous beauty of Louisville, Ky., and his wife was known as one of the most gracious hostesses in the German diplomatic corps. After a brilliant career as a soldier he joined the diplomatic service in 1890 and was first secretay of the Peking legation.

On receipt of a cablegram from American Amassador Hill at Berlin, officially notifying him of the death of Baron Von Sternburg, acting secretary of State Adee at once sent a personal message of condolence to Baroness Sternburg. It is expected that the president will also send personal messages and that Secretary Root will indite an official note.

DEFENDS HIS ACTION.

That the Alexandria Police Department is opposed to permitting unjust and untruthful attacks upon its officers to go unnoticed is shown by the following taken from the Baltimore Sun of yesterday which explains itself:

Referring to the arrest in Alexandria recently of a citizen of Annapolis, and to your item with regard to the same, which was headed "Alexandria Hospitality" and "Victim of Police Stupidity," I desire to make reply.

A city official, especially a member of the police department, whether he be chief or private, is generally the subject of abuse. The news editor of The Sun, I admit, knows nothing of the circumstances surrounding the case and, judging from the article, the writer was densely ignorant of the facts or wanted to build fame by stooping to public untruths. There is no distinction in law—a drunk is a drunk, whether he be a congressman or hodcarrier—and the police department would be negligent in its duty should it overlook the treatment of these unfortunates. There are modes of treatment for different classes, it is true, and the gentleman spoken of in your dispatch received exceptionally good treatment at our hands. That he was helpless many good citizens will bear me out. That he was ignorant of his whereabouts the same persons can testify. As chief of the city's police department I approached this man and asked him a few questions as to who he was and where he was going. I satisfied myself fully that if he had money he would soon lose it, for there are always crooks looking for just such men. I asked him to take a walk with me. I took him in my own private room and there found he had two $10 bills pinned to his hose. I asked him who he was and he then told me. I telephoned to Washington and Annapolis, all at the city of Alexandria's expense, and all it cost the gentleman in question was his fare to Washington when we placed him on the train. I want to say that the editor of one of the best molders of public sentiment on the globe—the Baltimore Sun—or its agent has ridiculed a city official whose only reward is duty well performed. As far as the gentleman in question is concerned, if he was aware that an article like the one published in the The Sun was written, and if it had his consent, he is no better than the man who wrote it It was a slander against the city of Alexandria and its police department. Hoping you will publish this in your next issue, I am yours, respectfully.

PASTOR GIVES UP CHILD LOVE.

Rev. George S. Fitzhugh, the 67-year-old pastor of St. Barnaba's Protestant Episcopal Church at Curtis Bay, Md., will not marry Lulu Virginia Frazer, the 10-year-old girl from the Virginia mountains. On Saturday he surrendered the marriage license which he obtained at Ellicott City to his son, G. L. Fitzhugh. The child will be taken back to her home in Albermarle county, by Mrs. Mary Padgett, Rev. Fitzhugh's daughter. The widowed mother of the girl can neither read nor write, and is almost penniless. Geo. L. Fitzhugh, who is a lawyer in Richmond, believes his father, who adopted the child to give her the benefits of an education in the city, has grown so fond of the sprightly little girl that he has become mentally unbalanced on the subject, and "the case of the little girl is also an unfortunate one. Her father is dead and her mother, lives in a little hut in a lonely part of Albermarle county. Her father was a poor mountaineer. Rev. George S. Fitzhugh was taken yesterday to Spring Grove Asylum, in Maryland. After he was adjudged insane the physicians advised him to go to the asylum where he might rest. At first he did not wish to go, but after being urged by the physicians he decided to go. His two sons, Messrs. George and Lee Fitzhugh, accompanied him. Dr. Horton declares that Rev Fitzhugh is a complete wreck physically and mentally, and that because of his age he will be fortunate if he recovers. A few hours before he was taken to the asylum he told Dr. Horton that he is willing to marry the child, and would marry her yet if his family did not object.

Bishop Paret, who is now at Ocean City, will make a thorough investigation of the case at once.

USES HIS GUN.

Excitement ran high on Saturday afternoon just after the Gazette had gone to press when the news spread over the city that a white man had been shot by an Italian. James Laporte has converted the upper story of the City Hotel into an antique furniture establishment, and for sometime has had in his employ an Italian by the name of Parrino Benedetto. His wages were $13 a week. The employer told the Italian that business was dull and that he would have to cut his wages to $10 weekly or dispense with his service for four weeks. This the workman refused to accept and quit. It appears that Laporte owed the man some money but was withholding a part of it on account of the workman spoiling a piece of mahogany valued at about $6. The Italian entered Laporte's place about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the latter was making a sale to some ladies and became abusive and Laporte attempted to show him the way out. The Italian became abusive and Laporte forcibly ejected him, using his foot as a weapon. The Italian left with the remark "I'll fix a you" and returned later with a .38 calibre pistol. Laporte seeing his predicament kicked the man again and before the would be murderer could discharge his weapon had closed a door betweed them. Laporte then rushed into Mr. Hugh Strider's store, where, he says, there are always one or two loaded pistols but could not find one. By this time the Italian had gotten out and rushed through market alley with Laporte and others after him. Being a fleet footed individual he outdistanced those in the chase, ran into the parlor of Mr. Charles Dudley's house on south Fairfax street, the door of which was open, where he left the weapon. By this time every vehicle which could be obtained was brought into requisition and everyone on the street joined in the chase. Exhausted and scared out of his wits the fugitive was overtaken on south Pitt street by Chief Goods and Officers Ferguson and Rawlett and brought to the station house. For almost an hour it was impossible to get past the police station owing to the crowd attracted by the affair. What made the excitement more intense was just as the Italian had been arrested a young man who had fallen from a buggy was being driven to the Alexandria Hospital with his head and face a mass of blood and naturally most people thought that he was the victim of the Italian's gun. This morning Benedetto was before Justice Caton and Attorney R. D. Brumback appeared for the Italian and on his suggestion Justice Caton postponed the hearing till tomorrow morning. Today the attorney held a consultation with the accused and was assisted by two interpreters from Washington. Benedetto cannot speak English at all, and it is difficult to understand him.

FIGHT ON SOUTH LEE STREET.

The First ward was well represented in the audience in the Police Court this morning when the case of James Wood, charged with an assault on William L. Woodward, was called. It appears that the latter met Wood yesterday and challenged him for a fight to a finish and proceeded toward Jones's Point. When in front of the home of Mr. Wm. Scott, between Wolfe and Wilkes streets, an argument was started and the Washingtonian called Wood a liar, whereupon Wood struck him and he ran in Mr. Scott's house. Later Woodward asked Mr. Scott to secure the services of a policeman to escort him to the train, and Officer Ferguson accompanied him. After the trouble young Wood was standing near the corner of Franklin and Lee street, when his wife and her sister passed. He remarked to her, "I have whipped your man and will whip you if you give me any provocation." While he was arguing with his wife and her sister, a little boy named Crockett, brother of Mrs. Wood, ran up behind Wood and struck him with a brick. It seems that Woodward is a married man and is employed in the Washington navy yard and the charge is that he is paying attention to Wood's wife, for which reason Wood and his wife have not lived together for three years. Wood was arrested by Officer Ferguson. When the case was called Woodward failed to appear and the matter was dropped.

WINDMILL HILL.

Every evening during the summer months the residents of the First ward find this hill a very pleasant resort for themselves and children and it is no unusual thing to see more than a hundred little ones scattered about indulging in different games. Sundays there are more than the usual number. Yesterday their pleasure was marred by two horses which belong in the neighborhood running up and down the hill chased by dogs. It compelled those who valued their lives to return to their homes.

WALKED OUT A WINDOW.

Bernard McGilvery, who lives on Wolfe street near the Strand, met with a serious accident on Saturday morning when, in his sleep he, walked out of a second story window of a hotel at Colonial Beach. He was picked up by employes of the hotel and taken back to his room and medical aid summoned. He was brought to this city yesterday where he is being attended by Dr. Gorman. His injuries are not considered serious.

LOST HIS WATCH.

Mr. Lawrence J. Nalls came to police headquarters Saturday night and informed the officers that he had lost his watch near the corner of King and Patrick streets as he alighted from a cab. Later the broken crystal was found near the point but the watch could not be located. It is presumed that some one picked it up while passing along that street.

STRUCK THE PROPRIETOR.

Charles Stephens, a blacksmith, who was employed in a shop on Cameron street some time since, but who has of late been working at his trade in Washington, came to the city yesterday to renew old acquaintances and entered a lunch room on King street for something to eat. Having satisfied the inner man he arose and walked out as if the place of business was his own and sat on a nearby step imagining to himself "how unfortunate a thing it is to be poor." After using one or two tooth picks and lighting a cigar he was about to depart, when one of the proprietors, S. Privecli accosted him and asked for payment for the meals. He refused to pay, whereupon Privecli sent to the police station for an officer. Officer Roberts was quick to respond and the man produced the coin. Thinking the matter was settled the officer told Stephens to depart and then return to his duties at headquarters. Stephens says that Privecli came out and used threatening language toward him. Whether he did or not it is true—Stephens was locked up for striking the lunch room proprietor. This morning Justice Caton called the case but Stephens failed to report, thereby forfeiting his collateral.

OUT AGAIN, IN AGAIN.

It will be remembered that a great many complaints have been heard about the loafers on the steps of the old City Hotel building and that the police officers have been kept busy keeping the "squatters" off the premises. One of the offenders has been before Justice Caton several times for insisting on loafing about this corner. A young man by the name of Benson is employed in a store in that building and yesterday morning on arising went out on the steps to rest before breakfast. James Self, who has just been released from jail, came along and started an argument and slapped Benson in the mouth. Benson, small but nervy, then knocked Self down and but for the intervention of Mr. Hugh Strider would have walloped him well. He then swore out a warrant for Self and had him locked up. This morning Justice Caton fined him $7.50, and in default of payment was sent to jail.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Slim Clark, colored, arrested by Officers Henderson and Sampson, for assaulting and beating Helen Crampton, forfeited $5 collateral.

Herbert Alexander, colored, arrested by Officers Knight and Young, for assaulting Annie Alexander, forfeited $5 collateral.

Parrino Benedetto, arrested by Chief Goods and Officers Rawlett and Ferguson, for assault on James Laporte with a pistol, had his case continued till tomorrow.

James Self, arrested by Chief Goods, for an assault on Robert Benson, was fined $7.50.

Charles Stephen, arrested by Officer Roberts, for an assault on S. Privecio, forfeited $5 collateral.

James Wood, arrested by Officer Ferguson, for an assault on William L. Woodward, of Washington, was dismissed, the complainant not appearing.

MORE UNION TROUBLES.

As was stated in the Gazette, Mr. Julian D. Knight, contractor, the latter part of last week secured a contract for making lockers for the government from Mr. M. L. Rishell. The work was to be hurried and Mr. Knight sub-contracted a part of it to Silcott & Son. It seems that the sub-contractors are behind in dues in the union and are under the ban, and Mr. Knight was informed of this fact and he immediately dispensed with their services. Now he is in a quandary as to what to do. There is no union labor that he can obtain and there is a time limit on the job. Judging from this state of affairs there certainly must be lots of work for carpenters in this city.

EXCITING CHASE.

A great deal of complaint has been received about dogs on Washington street On Saturday night three police officers discovered a female canine near the corner of King and Washington streets and tried to capture it. The canine started out Washington street followed by the officers and about twenty dogs. It was an exciting chase and the poor offending animal was not overtaken till Portner's Brewery was reached. What disposition the officers made of the animal is not known.

SUSPICIONS AROUSED.

The drivers for the firm of Charles King, & Son Co. came to the station house last night and reported that there were several mysterious individuals lurking about the premises of the firm. The men who had just returned from driving also informed the officer that there was no watchman there and would be none till Tuesday night. The officers on that beat were instructed to pay close attention to the premises.

REPORTED DISTURBANCE.

A young man of unquestioned reputation in this city reported a serious disturbance between Alexandrians and Washingtonians at the corner of King and Royal streets Saturday night at midnight. It was continued, he says, aboard the electric car which left here at that time, some of the Alexandrians attempted to pull the Washingtonians off the train. As this is a prominent thoroughfare it is well to ask where were the police officers on that occasion.

THE CREIGHTON-PALMER WEDDING.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at eight o'clock on Saturday evening, at the Methodist Church, at Aldie, Loudoun county, when Miss Rachel Elizabeth Palmer, daughter of Mrs. M. Frances Palmer, became the bride of Mr. Charles Franklin Creighton, of this city. The church was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and wax candles. While Miss Anna Dudley rendered the wedding march from Lohengrin the flower girl, little Miss Gladys Gulick, daintly dressed in white organdy, and carrying a basket of roses entered the church, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Eskridge, of Washington, wearing a pretty dress of organdy, and carrying white carnations. They were followed by the matrons of honor, Mrs. H. H. Palmer, wife of Lieut. Harry H. Palmer, U. S. N., and Mrs. E. R. Duffey, sister of the bride. The bride entered the church with her mother, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Tebe L. Creighton, his brother. Rev. J. E. Balthis officiated. The bride wore a beautiful imported gown of embroidered crepe, made princess. She wore the conventional veil of tulle, which was held in place by an old-fashioned brooch, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The matrons of honor wore pretty gowns of silk and lace, and carried bouquets of white carnations. Master Gus Duffey was ring-bearer. The ushers were Messrs. David W. Aitcheson, William B. McCuen, William T. Pollard, of this city, and Edward R. Duffey, of Middleburg.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION.

The annual state convention of the Firemen's Association will be called to order at Harrisonburg, Va., August 26. Its sessions will last three days. Judging from appearances it will be largely attended. Alexandria will furnish a goodly number for the occasion. As has been stated before the old Columbia engine and reel were shipped yesterday afternoon and will be appropriately decorated at Harrisonburg before the day of parade.

The Columbia company will have at the convention about 40 men, accompanied by the Naval Gun Factory Band of Washington. While the engineer of the Columbia is attending the convention Mr. Everett Rogers will be in charge of the engine here.

The Relief Hook and Ladder Co. will carry about 20 men, who will be under command of Capt. R. M. Latham.

The Reliance will have about 15 men in line who will be under command of Mr. Arthur Grimes.

The Friendship will have about 10 men attending the convention.

The Hampton company will arrive on the Norfolk steamer in the morning and will be prevailed on to wait till the departure of the Alexandrians in the afternoon. They will be met by a committee from the companies headed by a portion of the Alexandria drum corps. As stated before, just previous to leaving the different companies will parade the principal streets of this city. The train for Harrisonburg leaves this city at 4:32.

CREATED A SENSATION.

On the arrival of Hugo, the largest snake in captivity, in Camden, N. J., a few days ago, the monster by some means or other got out of the car and was maneuvering among a lot of full grown fowls and before the owner could capture him he had made way with from thirty to forty of them. Hugo's lunch just cost his owner twelve dollars and fifty cents, quite an expensive meal. Hugo will be on exhibition during the Eagles' Carnival. This is only one of the numerous exhibits to be presented. Minting the Marvel arrived this morning. His act is considered far above the average seen among carnival companies.

$2.50, $3, and $3.50 Ladies' Shoes, in black and tan, low and high cut, mostly small sizes, off red for a few days only at 79 cents. J. A. Marshall & Bro.

MONDAY EVENING, AUG. 24, 1908.

Revealed.

An insurance agent was trying to induce a hard man to deal with to take out a policy on his house. After listening to him for an hour while he painted in vivid colors the extreme danger of fire consuming the house the hard man to deal with said:

"Do you really think it likely that my house will burn down within the time that the policy will run?"

"Certainly," replied the agent. "Have I not been trying all this time to convince you that I do?"

"Then," said the hard man to deal with, "why is your company so anxious to bet me money that it will not?"

The agent was silent and thoughtful for a moment; then he drew the other apart into an unfrequented place and whispered in his ear:

"My friend, I will impart to you a dark secret. Years ago the company disgraced me before my sweetheart. Under an assumed name I have wormed myself into its service for revenge, and as there is a heaven above us I will have its heart's blood!"

Humiliating.

Champ Clark frequently visited Washington before his election to the house and thought he was pretty well known there. On one occasion, says the Washington Star, he came to the capital on business for a client. He was surprised and pleased to meet an old friend and townsman at the hotel Mr. Clark had selected for his stay.

"Well, well, if it isn't Brown!" exclaimed Mr. Clark. "I'm glad to see you. Is there anything I can do for you?"

Then Mr. Clark took his friend by the arm and marched him to the hotel desk, saying, "I can do you a good turn, anyhow."

"Clerk," added Mr. Clark when they had reached that functionary, "this is my friend Mr. Brown. I want you to treat him right. Let him have whatever he wants, and if he gets too extravagant and runs out of cash just charge it to me."

"Why, yes," said the clerk, "I know Mr. Brown very well, sir, but who are you?"

She Got His Name.

"Little boy," asked the new teacher, "what is your name?"

"I'll have to write it for you, miss," he said hesitatingly.

"Why? My hearing is quite good! Your name, boy!"

"I'd rather not tell you."

"Surely you can't be ashamed of it?"

"No, miss, but"—

"Then we will not waste any more time, if you please! I am waiting!"

The small boy's eyes rolled wildly in their sockets, and his face became contorted with pain as he began:

"Ku-kuk-kuk-kuk-kuk-kuk-Clarence! That's my first name, miss. But my other name is Pup-pup-pup-pup-Perkins! I never stutter 'cept when I'm speaking my name, and when I'm nagged like this I get a whole lot worse, miss."

A Race With the Sun.

An English magazine says that if an aerial machine were capable of traveling at any rate up to 1,000 miles an hour a traveler in it, starting westward from London at a speed of 600 miles an hour, would arrest the progress of time. If he started at 10 a. m., it would always be to him 10 a. m. Should he find his unending day monotonous he could reverse his direction and get a quick succession of short days and nights of some six hours' duration, but he could regulate the length by the speed of his machine. Suppose he traveled from London one night at 10 o'clock westward at a speed of 1,000 miles per hour. He would soon experience the sensation of seeing the sun rising in the west where it had set a short time before.

Noise.

Noise, at first cultivated in this land by the Indians, has reached its climax in the college yell. It is used at political conventions, at christenings and at women's clubs. No monument was necessary for the man who first invented noise. His work lives after him.

Noise is used by cities, which have the first call for it. They split it up into as many sounds as possible and divide it among all.

Noise varies in its volume and intensity, from embryonic and immature sawmill to a baby crying in the night. —Life.

Its Origin.

"So you don't believe in the story of Jonah and the whale?"

"No," answered Mr. Meekton thoughtfully.

"How do you suppose it originated?"

"Well, I suppose Jonah had been away from home for some time and had to tell his wife something."—Kansas City Newsbook.

His Only Want.

Billionaire's Daughter—You wrong him, papa. He does not love me for my money. He scoffs at the world's sordid eagerness for wealth. Papa—What proof have you, child? Billionaire's Daughter—Why, only last night he told me he didn't care if he was never able to make a penny in his life if he only had me.

Well Tested.

"Do you consider your nerve is sufficiently steady to fit you for an airship navigator?"

"Well, I've been out in a canoe with a nervous fat girl."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Married Man's Progress.

The first year after marriage man holds his wife fondly, the second year he holds the baby awkwardly, and every year after that he holds his tongue sensibly.—Dallas News.

Democrats from all parts of the country was at Chicago Saturday to meet Mr. Bryan. Gov. Johnson is there. Sheriff Smith, of Seattle, has been asked by the Northern Pacific officials to protect Japanese strike breakers from the attacks of Italian strikers at Auburn. The Italians refuse to give up the company cottages in which they are sleeping and the Japanese, who have been imported to break the strike are forced to sleep on the ground. If some arrangement is not made the Japanese threaten to wipe out the Italian camp tonight.

While he failed in his attempt to swim the English channel, T. W. Burgess had one swimming record to his credit when he was taken out of the water Saturday last, a mile and a half from the French coast, that of having remained in the water continuously for 22 hours and 45 minutes. He would undoubtedly have finished his swim across the channel had not a strong tide set in, which he was unable to breast.

J. Frank Cordova, the unfrocked minister of South River, N. J., recently freed from the penitentiary at Trenton, after serving a four year term for deserting his wife and running away with Julia Bowne, a choir singer in his church, was in Philadelphia Saturday. A former friend who saw him declared that Cordova is penniless and without work, and that his mind is giving way. It was also learned that immediately after Cordova reached that city he wrote to Miss Bowne. In his letter he said he was coming for her but received a reply from her father threatening to kill if he ever appeared at North Asbury Park.

John D. Archbold, jr., son of John D. Rockefeller's partner in Standard Oil, is being sought by officers in in a $10,000 damage suit begun in New Bedford, Mass., by the parents of 10-year-old Gilmina De Mello, who was killed by Archbold's automobile and for whose burial he has refused to pay. Little Gilmina De Mello died July 27 in St. Luke's Hospital there where she had been taken by Archbold after the accident. Young Archbold hired special nurses for the child whose parents are poor Portugese, and for three days himself waited at her bedside. He agreed to pay all charges at the hospital, but when the $228 bill for the burial came in, James Williams, the undertaker, says Archbold balked at an item of $58 for a burial lot.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

Mr. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many on our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.
